-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9/20/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-9, 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by anticipated by Bondy (US 2003/0046147 A1).

As per claims 1, 16 and 17, Bondy discloses a business system including the steps of: an electronic core business having a customizable purchasing platform (electronic store hyperlinked or electronic retailing system; page 2, [0021], lines 3-4); a plurality of affiliate organization providers remote from the core business each enabled to provide a good or a service for purchase (page 2, [0023], lines 1-6; fig. 9, A, B, C); and wherein the core business is enabled to allow a member of a first affinity partner to electronically make purchases directly from each of the affiliate organization provider via the core business (page 4, [0038], line 6; page 4, [0038], lines 6-10).

As per claim 2, Bondy discloses a system wherein the affiliate organization is enabled to provide a royalty (commission generating module 14e) back to the core business as a function of the purchases made by the members with the affiliate organization provider (page 4, [0037], lines 1-11).

As per claim 3, Bondy discloses a business system further comprising a second Affinity partner that is electronically associated with and is subset of the first affinity (fig. 1).

As per claim 4, Bondy discloses a business system wherein the customizable purchasing platform is configured such that the member of the second affinity partner can access a web site associated with the customizable platform (fig. 1, 12).

As per claim 5, Bondy discloses a business system wherein the web site is configured such that the member of the second Affinity partner accesses the web site associated with customizable purchasing platform, the web site appears to be a web site of the first Affinity or the second Affinity partner as claimed (see fig. 1).

As per claim 6, Bondy discloses a business system wherein the affiliate organization providers ship the purchased goods or services directly to the purchasing members as claimed (page 4, [0035], lines 20-23).

As per claim 7, Bondy further discloses a business system wherein the customizable purchasing platform electronically links the first Affinity partner to a web page of the affiliate organization provider by: storing a web page template; customizing the template to create a first Affinity partner or a second Affinity partner web page; and displaying the first Affinity partner or the second Affinity partner web page to the member when the member accesses the purchasing platform (page 2, [0023], lines 12-22, [0026], lines 1-9, fig. 2).

As per claim 8, Bondy discloses a business system wherein the member accesses the affiliate organization provider web page via a click-through from a web page associated with the first and second Affinity Partner (page 2, [0026], lines 9-13).

As per claim 9, Bondy discloses a business system a business system wherein the core business is enabled such that no funds transferred from the member to the organization provider are handled by the core business (page 1, [0007], lines 11-13).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 10-15, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bondy (US 2003/0046147 A1) in view of Dicks et al (US 2002/0007334 A1).

As per claims 10, 11 and 19, Bondy does not teach a system wherein the first and secondary affinity partners receive a stock option in the core business but Dicks discloses a stock option in a business auction.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize the stock option as taught by Dicks into the system of Bondy because it would allow the Affinity partners to have a portion of the profits made therefore sharing the revenue.

Art Unit: 3627

As per claims 12-15 and 20, Bondy does not teach distributing the profits among the partners as a function of a volume of purchases made by the second Affinity partner members via the core business but Dicks et al teach profits or fees sharing between the broker party and non-broker party from the brokerage service in various ways.

From the teaching of Dicks et al, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize the fees or profits sharing as taught by Dicks et al into the system of Bondy because it would provide a financially stable environment for both parties knowing that the profits will be distributed among them.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed on 12/27/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the present invention is directed to providing members of an Affinity group the ability to purchase goods from a plurality of affiliate organizations, in whatever volume they choose and without "pooling" the orders, and have these goods delivered to them, rather than funneled back through the group in a "batch style" and dependent claim 6 focuses on this additional feature whereby the goods are delivered directly to the member, rather than the Affinity group. In response to Applicant's arguments, the Examiner notices that the system of Bondy covers a greater area than the actual claimed invention because it allows a group purchase from affiliate organization as well as individual purchases from members of said affiliate organization. Also the system allows a member package to be delivered directly to the corresponding purchaser (see rejection of claim 6). Applicant argues that this teaching is never provided or suggested in the corresponding provisional application. The Examiner again notices that this particular limitation is discussed in the provisional application in page 5, line 20, which discloses that the e-tailer has the ability to ship directly to the consumer. As a result, the provisional application date (Mar 31, 2000) stands and claims 1-17, 19 and 20 are rejected.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ronald Laneau whose telephone number is (571) 272-6784. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Fri from 8:30am - 6:00pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Alexander Kalinowski can be reached on (571) 272-6771. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
